Crushed in a vehicle at a scrap metal facility in 2009, to date, Anthony has not received any financial compensation from his accident. After a multi-year lawsuit followed by a lengthy battle at WSIB followed by appeals to the Divisional Court of Justice in Ontario it was ruled Anthony would not have the right to sue. This meant that Anthony would have to pursue WSIB for any financial compensation. This decision was made almost 2 years ago and Anthony has yet to receive compensation for his injuries. His battle goes on.
